Eurazeo creates a Parity network and joins FinanciElles

On the eve of the 2014 Women's Forum, Eurazeo has launched an internal parity network, Eurazeo Pluriels. The objective of this mixed network is to drive forward parity within Eurazeo, its portfolio companies and its sphere of influence. Eurazeo Pluriels is distinctive in that it is open to all Eurazeo employees on a voluntary basis, to top management and high performers within its investments, as well as to its partners (banks, legal advisors, consulting firms, etc.). The events organized by Eurazeo Pluriels will seek to raise participant awareness of parity issues and define progress plans with quantified objectives.

Alongside the launch of Eurazeo Pluriels, Eurazeo has joined Financi'Elles, the leading female business network in the finance sector. Eurazeo is the first investment company to join this network, whose aim is to help improve and above all accelerate women's access to the top echelons of finance sector organizations.

Eurazeo has long been committed to professional equality between men and women, which represents a pillar of its CSR charter. The company has also partnered the Women's Forum since 2008 and supports the Rising Talents program, which seeks to identify young women from all countries and backgrounds (economic, cultural or scientific) with the energy and potential to play a crucial role in building the world of tomorrow.

Patrick Sayer, Chairman of the Eurazeo Executive Board, stated: "Taking action in favor of parity is essential for a responsible shareholder. We therefore wished to demonstrate and formalize our commitment by creating Eurazeo Pluriels and joining Financi'Elles. In this way, we hope to play our part in achieving parity and, especially, benefit from the experience of our peers in order to make further progress."

Virginie Morgon, Deputy CEO, added: "The conviction that gender mix is as much a key performance factor for companies as a driver of social progress must not be carried by one person or only by women, but must clearly be conveyed by institutions. This has underpinned our long-term commitment alongside the Women's Forum and also explains why we have joined Financi'Elles. The Eurazeo Pluriels network will also champion this ambition."
